

After listening to my husband's XM Radio, my 6 year old daughter and I were hooked. My daughter saved her money so that she could have her own XM, and she paid for half the programming fee. I usually use it when she is in school and now she won't go to sleep without listening to Radio Disney. For us, it has been a big part of daily routine, hence the television being used only a few hours every week instead of all the time. Please accept this family's complete support.

Thank You,
